- The charge in question may remain on your statement, and we may continue to charge you interest on that amount. But, if we determine that we made a mistake, you will not have to pay the amount in question or any interest or fees related to that amount.
- While you do not have to pay the amount in question, you are responsible for the remainder of your balance.
- We can apply unpaid amount against your credit limit.

Your Rights if You are Dissatisfied with Your Credit Card Purchases

If you are dissatisfied with the goods or services that you have purchased with your credit card, and you have tried in good faith to correct the problem with the merchant, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on the purchase.

To use this right, all of the following must be true:

1. The purchase must have been made in your home state or within 100 miles of your current mailing address, and the purchase price must have been more than $50. (Note: Neither of these are necessary if your purchase was based on an advertisement that we mailed to you or if we own the company that sold you the goods/services.)
2. You must have used your credit card for the purchase. Purchases made with cash advances from an ATM or with a check that accesses your credit card account do not qualify.
3. You must not yet have fully paid for the purchase.

If all the above criteria are met and you are still dissatisfied with the purchase, contact us in writing at the address listed above. While we investigate, the same rules apply to the disputed amount as discussed above. After we finish our investigation, we will tell you our decision. At that point, if we think you owe an amount and you do not pay we may report you as delinquent.

PAYMENT INFORMATION – Please mail or deliver your payment to us at the address listed above. Payments received on weekends and holidays will be credited the next business day. Payments received after your statement closing date will appear on your next statement. If we have been authorized to deduct the minimum payment from your account, it will be deducted and credited to your account as of the date shown on the reverse side hereof. To avoid additional INTEREST CHARGES, pay your balance in full. Please call us for the exact balance as the balance changes daily.

INTEREST CHARGE – The INTEREST CHARGE on your account is calculated by applying the different PERIODIC RATES to the appropriate range of the outstanding daily balance of your account. The outstanding daily balance is calculated by using the beginning balance of your account each day, adding any new advances or debits, and subtracting any payments or credits. The INTEREST CHARGE may be determined as follows:

1. Using the rate ranges, separate the outstanding daily balance into appropriate amounts.
2. Multiply each outstanding daily balance by the applicable periodic rate.
3. Multiply each of these results by the number of days the applicable rate was in effect.
4. Add the results of step 3 together.

USE OF DAILY BALANCE METHOD (Including Current Transactions) – We figure the interest charge on your account by applying the periodic rate to the “daily balance” of your account for each day in the billing cycle. To get the “daily balance” we take the beginning balance of your account each day, add any new advances or fees, and subtract any unpaid interest or other finance charges and any payments or credits. This gives us the daily balance.

We may make a change in our management of checking accounts at Fortis Private Bank that will not affect your available balance, interest earnings, FDIC insurance, or bank statement. If your account is a plan on which interest is paid, your interest calculation will remain the same. The account will consist for accounting purposes of a checking sub-account and a savings sub-account. We may periodically transfer funds between these two sub-accounts. On a sixth transfer during a calendar month, any funds in the savings sub-account will be transferred back to the checking sub-account. Otherwise, the savings sub-account will be non-interest bearing. The saving sub-account will be governed by the rules governing our other savings accounts.
